2) The petitioner is the daughter's daughter of Jaya Narasinga Rao mentioned in S. 3 of the Yelandur Jaghir Regulation. Her case is that the adoption by Jayanarasinga Rao of his daughter's son is invalid under the Regulation, that Sir P. N. Krishnamurthy reserved Rs 200/- out of the annuity expecting compromise between the parties, but that the present Jaghirdar paid away the whole amount and that he may be directed to give her suitable maintenance.

3) The question has already been discussed in Legis File 54-13. The adoption is legal both under Hindu Law and the Regn. The Jaghirdar was perfectly justified in paying the annuity and his act valid under

6) The petitioner is the daughter's daughter of Jaya Narasinga Rao. The petitioner admits that her mother predeceased her own father Jayanarasinga Rao. Before his death in 1908, Jayanarasinga Rao adopted one Krishna Rao who is alive. The adopted son is thus a preferential heir to a daughter's daughter. Even if the adoption be invalid, Krishna Rao as the daughter's son is a preferential heir to the petitioner who is only a daughter's daughter, and who is strictly no heir under the Hindu Law.

7) Under the Regulation, the annuities are subject to the law of Succession. Thus the petitioner as the daughter of deceased daughter has no right as against the daughter's son, and a fortiori as against an adopted son.

To

His Highness Sri Krishnarajendra Wodiyar Bahadu , G.C.S.I. &c. 16

Maharaja of Mysore,

M Y S O R E.

11.11.15

May it please your Highness,

Your Highness's most humble petitioner, the undersigned Sitamman, most respectfully beg to submit as follows:-

That she is the daughter of one Bhagirathamma (deceased) the 2nd daughter of the late Jaya Narasinga Rao 3rd Branch -- mentioned in Yelandur Jahagir Regulation 1 of 1885. The said Jaya Narasinga Rao has a 1st daughter Narasamma who is alive and who has sons named (1) Madhava Rao (2) Krishna Rao. The 2nd of these named Krishna Rao is said to have been adopted to the said late Jaya --- Narasinga Rao.

2. That under Section 3 (2), there having been a natural lineal descendant of late Dewan Purnaiya in the person of the brother of the present Jahagirdar, of Yelandur eligible and available for adoption, the adoption of any other person such as Krishna Rao referred to in para 1 is not valid.

3. That your Highness's most humble petitioner being a widow and having a minor son 8 years old and having no means of -- subsistence, she applied to Sir P.N. Krishna Murthi the former --- Jahagirdar for maintenance out of emoluments due to the said 3rd -- Branch in para 1 above.

4. That the said Sir P.N. Krishna Murthi, after obtaining a full report of the circumstances from the Amildar of Yelandur, -- passed an order that out of Rs.1200/- due as emoluments to the said 3rd Branch, Rs.1000/- only should be paid to Narasamma and Krishna Rao referred to in para 1, and that Rs.200/- should be reserved. This practice continued for 2 or 3 years until the death of Sir P.N. -- Krishna Murthi, and for one year thereafter during the regime of the present Jahagirdar, who ultimately caused the whole amount that had had had been thus reserved to be paid to the said Narasamma and Krishna Rao.

5. That Sir P.N. Krishna Murthi during his life time was distributing among his daughter, his brothers' 4 daughters, his niece, and some other relations sums of money collected out of Yelandur -- Jahagir. The reservation of Rs.200/- mentioned in para 4, was in--tended for your Highness's humble petitioner who was being helped by her grandfather the late Jaya Narasinga Rao, during his life-time out of Jahagir emoluments. With a view that parties viz., Narasamma and Krishna Rao aforesaid on the one hand and your Highness's humble petitioner on the other hand may go amicably and compromise us -- between themselves and present a petition before the Jahagirdar as to their agreement to receive Rs.1000/-, and Rs.200/- respectively, time was allowed to pass. Rs.1000/- was meant for Narasamma and Krishna Rao in approval of the adoption otherwise invalid, and Rs.200/- was meant for the subsistence of your Highness's most humble petition--er.

6. That the present Jahagirdar by his having paid away the whole of the reserved amount as stated in para 4 did not fulfil the intentions of Sir P.N. Krishna Murthi his predeeessor who had acted upon the full report of Amildar, and was fully aware of the claims of the parties before him.

7. That nothing having been done by the present Jahagirdar for the maintenance of your Highness's humble petitioner. She applied to the Honorable Government for help and received endorsement --- No. T. 1043 / Legis 54-13-3 of 19-10-14, a copy of which isherein enclosed.

8. Your Highness's most humble petitioner is obliged to approach your Highness for her livelihood and as well as that of her minor son, being destitute and poor. While Narasamma, your High--ness's most humble petitioner's mother's elder sister and her son Krishna Rao alleged to be the adopted son of your Highness's humble petitioner's grand-father the late Jaya Narasinga Rao are paid --- emoluments, why your Highness's humble petitioner should go without maintenance even as a matter for your Highness's most benign considera--tion. Your Highness may be graciously pleased to send for the --
